

In this interpretation, I noticed some skills that I still need to improve upon. I need to practice how to interpret dialogue so that it sounds like more idiomatic English. I also want to keep working on complex sentences so that I can use them while I'm voicing. I feel like this source wasn't a super high register source, but I need to continue to work on higher register interpreting choices. I am going to continue practicing these skills so I can implement them in my future interpretations.